

Popularity

Top Popular 5 foods in the US

Among the top 5 most popular foods in the US, pizza ranks as the most popular, while tacos are the least popular.

Ingredients

Ingredients Breakdown for Pizza

A typical pizza dough is made from four primary ingredients: flour, which makes up the majority, followed by water, a touch of oil, and a small amount of yeast.

Pizza Eaters

Pizza Eaters by Age Group

Pizza is enjoyed across all age groups, with adults leading in consumption, followed closely by children and seniors. About 40% people who eat pizza are adults; 35% are children; and 25% are seniors.

THE PIZZA STORY

Do you know that pizza is one of the most popular foods in the world? Let's explore some fun facts about pizza's popularity, how it's made, its toppings, who eats it, and some of the best selling pizza places.

Toppings

Popular Pizza Toppings Over Time

Pepperoni remains the most popular pizza topping, while mushroom has seen steady growth, and bacon has been decreasing in popularity over the past decade. In 2020, pepperoni experienced a dramatic decrease in popularity due to a national price increase. Since 2013, mushrooms have become increasingly popular, partly due to the rising trend of vegan diets. In late 2017, fish was introduced as a competing topping to bacon in many pizza places, leading to a drop in bacon's popularity.

Pizza Places

Best Selling Pizza Places

Domino's makes the most money among all best selling pizza chains, with Papa John's and Pizza Hut close behind.